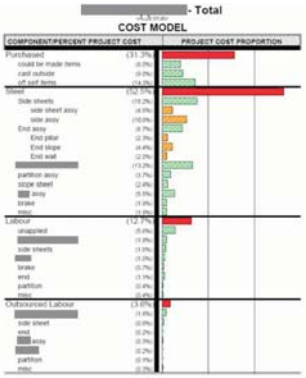
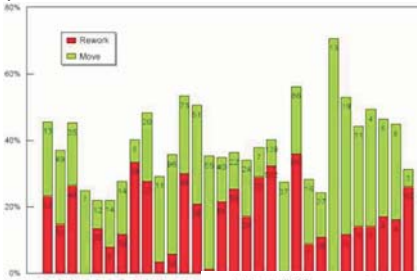
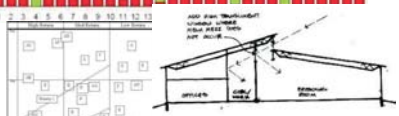
Typical Activities to Expect

Site Analysis

Pre-facilitation Selection Activities
We assist in finding expected high return projects for concentrated effort, team composition, type of study, location, and coordination issues.



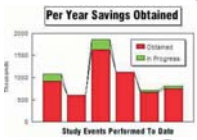


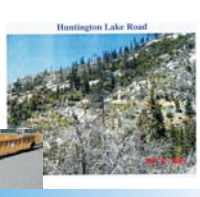


Preliminary Analysis
Using client supplied data and consulting with client; we, generate time, cost, process, labor, motion, value added, and other models for team use. We also gather other industry or other preliminary information that may assist team.

Facilitation Efforts
Lead the team through the six major team steps of the process; minimizing value process tool learning time, increasing creative opportunity generation, selection of best opportunities, guiding due diligence, compilation of effort results, and facilitating the presentations - including a management briefing.

Post Team Efforts
We generate report submissions, tools and assistance for: decisions to select proposals to be implemented, monitoring to make sure they happen, verifying the results are obtained, and ways to ensure people understand and use the results.





Ongoing Options
Using our vast Value Program Management knowledge, we can help you generate plan of actions for your firm to use in identifying other projects, creating a value program within your existing organizational structure to add continuing improvement of the organization and projects.
